

Walden Businesses Welcomes*Anna Brumby, Principal, CM&AP

Walden Businesses is pleased to announce the addition of Anna Brumby as a mergers and acquisition professional with the Walden team. Anna has over 20 years' experience as an influential business leader working with Fortune 500 companies and small businesses on multiple continents. Anna is an experienced professional with an extensive background in sales strategy development, contract negotiations, marketing strategies, financial analysis, and communication development.

Anna spent years working with the largest credit processing company on global expansion strategies including acquisition targeting and evaluation for the mergers and acquisition team. Additionally, she led a high growth sales team working to expand the corporate footprint across the US and into new international markets. For the last decade, Anna has worked with small business owners on acquisition strategies and growth plans to increase their revenues and expand business operations. Certified as a Mergers and Acquisition Professional (CM&AP) through the Kennesaw State University, Coles College of Business - Executive Education Program, Anna has focused her efforts on exit strategy planning for her clients to ensure they receive the maximum value for their businesses when preparing to sell.

Anna is recognized as a trusted business strategist and has been a frequent public speaker at international conferences, universities, and with professional business organizations. As an ongoing advocate for small business owners, Anna is a frequent guest on Fox Business News, 11-Alive and WSB Atlanta. She holds a dual BS degree in both Political Science and Accounting from Presbyterian College and an MBA in Marketing from the University of Georgia, Terry College of Business.
